

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of the media becoming too powerful. We can not allow Corporations to use the public airwaves as a platform for their political and financial interests. What happened to the law protecting Americans from this kind of abuse of power? Didn't you used to have to give equal time to each candidate? If they are allowed to show such a right wing movie than they should be required to show "Fahrenheit 9-11" immediately after.
